"Behold, Davids magnum opus: his memoir, A Bone of Fact (first published in 2014), but embellished beyond belief and transformed into an extravagant new tome, originally conceived as a gift to his family. It's everything David couldnt fit into the original: a wealth of heretofore untold opinion, anecdote, scandal and so forth; and the culmination of ten years of Walshian thought and analysis, laid bare for posterity or censure. All this alongside photography from Mona's history, and pictures of David's friends and family. And with a fighting weight of more than 1100 pages, its so big we had to slice it up into two volumes." # A WHITE GENOCIDAL ASSIMILATIONIST BITCH SPEAKS

Kathleen Mary Fallon

[Sydney]: Polar Bear Press, 2023.

First Edition. Signed by Author

17.5cm x 13.5cm. 50 pages, illustrations, some colour. Saddle-stapled wrappers.

"This second publication in the Queensland School Reader series continues Fallon's reconciliation dialogues telling intimate stories of her forty years as the lesbian foster mother of a Torres Strait Islander with disabilities. This was during the lesophobic decades when the boy would have been immediately removed from her care if the Authorities had discovered her lesbianism. Her stories are angry, tragic, darkly humorous, sometimes just plain snarky and gossipy. Ranging geographically from Brisbane to Sydney to London and ranging temporally over those forty year they are personally, politically, socially and culturally informative and candid snap shots of those times. There is an urgency about these stories and they need to be told." (author's blurb)
