HANDBOOK OF AUSTRALIAN FUNGI

M. C. Cooke

London: Williams and Norgate for the Departments of Agriculture in Melbourne, Brisbane, Sydney, Adelaide, Hobarton, 1892.

First Edition.

22.5cm x 14cm. xxxii, 457, [1] pages, 36 plates (20 in colour), [2] advertisements. Green cloth, gilt lettering, gilt top edge.

The first monograph on Australian fungi by English botanist and mycologist Mordecai Cubitt Cooke (1825-1914). Containing descriptions of 2079 species of macrofungi, microfungi, and slime moulds (or myxomycetes), of which 377 figures are illustrated across 36 plates. The samples which the handbook are based on were supplied by Ferdinand von Muller, Flora Martin, F. M. Bailey, Sven Berggren, and others, and shipped to Cooke in England. This distance limited the accuracy of the work, nevertheless, as the first volume devoted to the subject its historical import cannot be understated and remains a key work in any Australian mushroom collection.

20.5cm x 16cm. [340] pages, original manuscript. Half leather, marbled papered boards, marbled endpapers.

Manuscript logbook recording the daily observations of a merchant seaman, E. Acton, on eight voyages aboard the merchant ships Duke of Edinburgh, S.S. St. David, and S.S. Fern Tower for the White Star Company, Montreal Ocean Steam Ship Company, and others. While at sea the log largely records details about the weather and sailing conditions, as well as latitude and longitude, and distanced travelled, "October 7, 1868. Lat 33.08.S. Long. 154.53.E. Dist 167 miles. Course EbyN. Fresh breeze and clear." While in port the observations also pertain to the comings and goings of people and goods, including deserters as at Newcastle, N.S.W. "September 3, 1868 Commenced at noon to put out ballast. Captain Aberdeen of the Ship "Glouerra" came on board, with the Police, and took 3 of our crew to gaol viz Curran, Hislop and Lawley, who had deserted from his ship in Melbourne where we had shipped them, the former men got 2 months, and the latter 3 months imprisonment.". Lengthy descriptions are often given when a pilot is on board arriving and departing harbours. Each voyage is given its own title page, listing the ship, a drawing of the flag sailed under, locations visited, and a crew and passenger manifest (crew names are given, passengers are given as a count of the types of passengers). The voyages taken are: 1st Voyage: Duke of Edinburgh, White Star Company, from Liverpool to Melbourne, Vict., thence to Newcastle, N.S.W., thence to San Francisco, Cal., [thence to Cork], thence to Liverpool (April 22nd, 1868 to June 8, 1869); 2nd Voyage: Duke of Edinburgh, Thames & Mersey Line, from Liverpool to Melbourne, Vict, thence to Geelong, Victoria, thence to London (August 7, 1869 to May 13, 1870); 3rd Voyage: Duke of Edinburgh, T. H. Holderness, Esq., from London to Bombay, thence to Liverpool (August 17, 1870 to August 6, 1871); 4th Voyage: St. David, Montreal Ocean Steam Ship Company, from Glasgow to Quebec and Montreal, and back to Glasgow (August 22, 1871 to September 30, 1871); 5th Voyage: St. David, M.O.S.S. Co., from Glasgow to Quebec and Montreal and back to Glasgow (October 4, 1871 to November 11, 1871); 6th Voyage: St. David, The Anchor Line, from Glasgow to The Mediterranean calling at the following places, Talmouth, Lisbon, Gibraltar, Genoa, Leghorn, Naples, Marseilles, Valentia, Malaga and Gibraltar, thence to New York and Liverpool (November 17, 1871 to February 11, 1872); 7th Voyage: St. David, M.O.S.S. Co., from Liverpool to Portland, Maine, W.S., and back to Liverpool (February 15, 1872 to May 3rd, 1872); 8th Voyage: S. S. Fern Tower, from Cardiff to St. Nazaire, thence to L'Orient and back to Cardiff (September 24, 1872 to October 8, 1872).

Spineback worn off, the upper board and first gathering nearly detached, the first few sheets inside that gathering loose. The rest of the binding is sound. DAS JAHR DER SEELE

Stefan George; Ernest Briggs

Brisbane: Ernest Briggs, No date.

20.5cm x 13cm. [77] leaves (manuscript on recto only). Soft maroon leather wrappers.

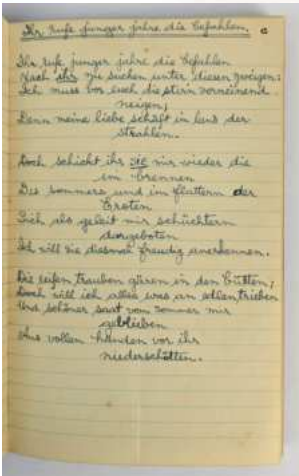

Autograph transcription of German symbolist poet Stefan George's 1897 work Das Jahr der Seele [The Year of the Soul] by Australian poet, broadcaster, and critic Ernest Briggs (1905-1967). The complete work has been copied in the original German, though the poem starting 'Keins wie dein feines ohr' has only been titled with a blank space left for the poem, and the final 9 poems from 'Ob schwerer nebel in den waldern hangt' to end have not been included, presumably only because Briggs ran out of room in the book. Penned during Briggs time at 4BK Brisbane sometime in the late 1930s or early 1940s.

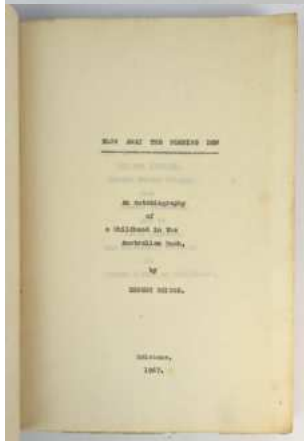

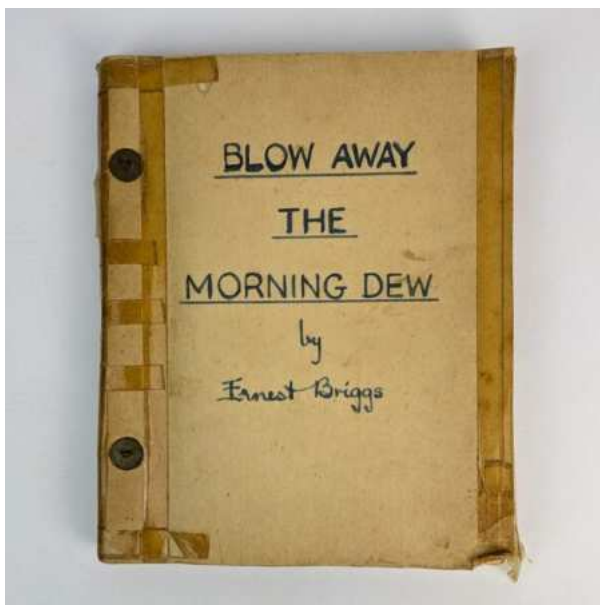

Minor shelf and handling wear. Minor foxing, mostly to endpapers. Very Good Condition. $100.00 AUD.

BLOW AWAY THE MORNING DEW: AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A CHILDHOOD IN THE AUSTRALIAN BUSH

Ernest Briggs

Brisbane: Ernest Briggs, 1967.

26cm x 21cm. Mimeographed typescript, approximately 270 leaves of text (printed recto only) and with the occasional manuscript correction, 12 mounted photographs. Post bound wrappers with manuscript title.

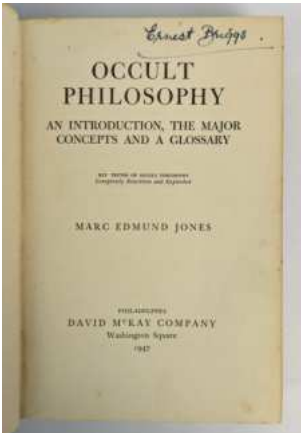

The unpublished childhood autobiography of Australian poet, broadcaster, and critic Ernest Briggs (1905-1967). Prepared in Brisbane in 1967, the same year as the author's death from a myocardial infarction, the typescript is an original source of life in early 20th century New South Wales and also contains 12 mounted photographs with manuscript captions. Littered with his poems and other flourishes Briggs tells of his childhood in a cottage in the then rural bush setting of Marsden Park, Riverstone, north-west of Sydney. After his mother's death at the age of 3 Briggs spends the next three years at the Ashfield Infant's Home, he tells of this time and of his relationship with Matron Rebecca Marston. At age 6 Briggs returns to Marsden Park, a sickly child, he is given a doctors pass on school and spends most of his time at his father's bootmaking workshop in Riverstone, or in the bush around the cottage, both of which he describes at length. He also recounts some of his father's childhood stories at Ballarat and Clunes, Victoria. A fifth-generation Australian, included are various Briggs family colonial history and correspondence from the early to mid 1800s. His father, growing weary of Ernest's stubbornness and requiring reprieve does eventually send him off to school and some of his experiences in the small town school are told, with beatings regular. His creative differences quickly become obvious and he further retreats into the beauty of the countryside. Briggs creative interests also began at home, "Once when a visitor had said, 'Quite an art-showing you've got here, Charlie' my father walked around the room saying, 'It comes of mixing with artists in my younger days. Not many, but good.... This is a Burket-Foster...; here are a couple by the noted water-colourist, Miss Allingham, a friend of Jessie's... she loved the foreshores of the Harbour, as you can see; this is by Gerrard, I did his framing for a number of years; this is by Uncle Tom Roberts, the first man in Australia to paint extensive oils .. you'll see a couple of unfinished Roberts in the spare room.'" Also recounted are trips into Sydney on public holidays with his father, through his eyes we are given a tour of the city and its landmarks, and also told of the history of Sydney's early years. Ernest tells of his boyhood encounter on the street with actress Nellie Stewart, and working as a messenger-boy in Sydney of casually meeting Dame Nellie Melba, another formative creative moment. Other holiday trips are described viewing old mills out past Campbelltown, or north to Windsor and Richmond, the Camperdown cemetery, and other regional historic sites.

SHOW ME! A PICTURE BOOK OF SEX FOR CHILDREN AND PARENTS

Will McBride; Helga Fleischhauer-Hardt

New York: St. Martin's Press, 1975.

First Edition.

34cm x 24cm. 176 pages, black and white photographs. Black cloth, silver lettering, no jacket.

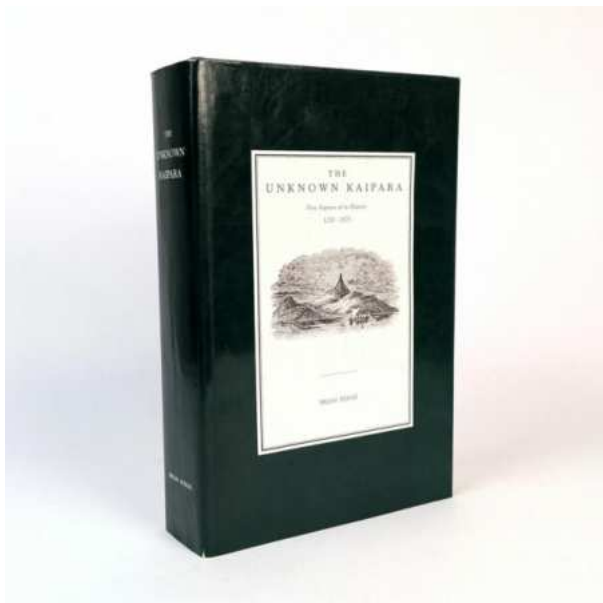

Originally published in German as 'Zeig Mal!', this is the first edition in English. Show Me! is a graphic sex education book written in a frank style to encourage teaching "children to grow up proud and unashamed of their bodies and sexuality." The publisher was accused of obscenity, with prosecutors arguing the book was child pornography. In all of the original cases judges ruled the book was not obscene, though the book continued to feature in US court cases relating to obscenity, child pornography, and the First Amendment, and was eventually pulled from shelves by the publisher "stating that though they believed Show Me! was not pornographic, they could no longer afford the legal expenses to defend it". An important work both in the history of sex education and book censorship.

A WORLD OF NUDES

Roy Dean

Los Angeles: Rho-Delta Press, 1975.

First Edition.

23cm x 15.5cm. [86] pages, black and white illustrations. Pictorial wrappers.

Male nudes by English-American photographer, actor, stage designer, director, and writer Roy Dean (1925-2002). Born Leslie Joseph, son of English actress Hermione Gingold, during the early 1970s Dean turned increasingly to photography with a focus on the nude physique of LA's male bodybuilders. During the 1980s Dean's work brought the male nude to the eyes of the masses. This earlier work, A World of Nudes, has a more niche appeal. The stylish black and white photographs a fine presentation of physique photography. The earlier photographs in this work bearing resemblance to Tomatsu Yato's Otoko, also published by Rho-Delta three years prior.

GANDALF (COMPLETE RUN NOS. 1-58)

Guus Dijkhuizen; et al.

Amsterdam: Gandalf, 1964-1971.

First Edition.

28cm x 21cm (earlier issues smaller). 57 volumes, illustrations, some colour. Pictorial saddle-stapled wrappers. Text is in Dutch.

A complete run of Dutch counterculture magazine, Gandalf, founded and edited by Guus Dijkhuizen (1937-2013). Associated with the Dutch Provo and hippie movements, Gandalf generally ran with a mix of art, literature, humour, satire, and nudity. Literary contributors included Gerard Reve, Simon Carmiggelt, Jan Wolkers, Simon Vinkenoog, Remco Campert, and Peter Andriess. Though cartoon nudity appeared from No. 2, and No. 6 contained a centrefold "Playmate of the Rear", photographic nudes did not appear until No. 8 and it was not until No. 21 before bare breasts were featured on the front cover, as the editors stepped up their campaign against the Holland status quo. Early circulation of Gandalf was around a few hundred copies, making the smaller format early issues rare, but within a couple of years had amassed a large audience with circulation around twenty thousand. Complete from Nos. 1 to 58, in 57 volumes, with No. 9/10 being a double issue.

Most Very Good to Near Fine, some with minor creasing and general wear, a couple with a little foxing, one with small previous owner's name, and a few with old neat price marks. Very Good Condition. $5500.00 AUD.

Facsimile Edition.

22cm x 14cm. xiv, 526, viii, 658, lxxii, 385 pages, 18 figures on [5] pages, 3 volumes. Blue cloth, gilt lettering.

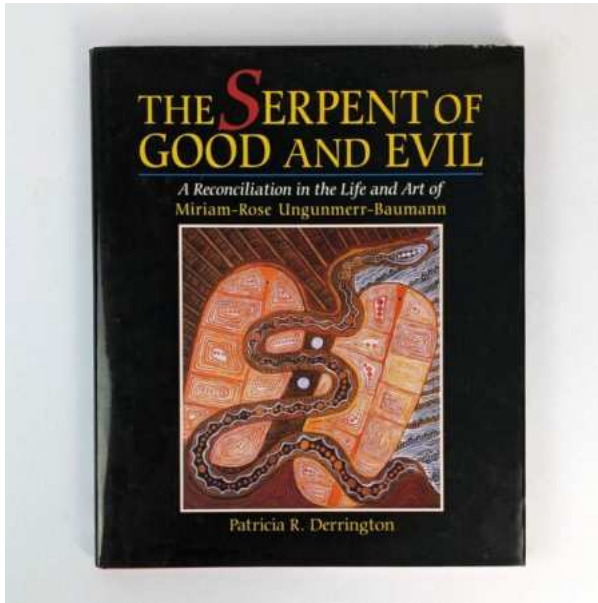

Translated from the Latin by James John Garth Wilkinson and Alfred Acton Clissold. Emanuel Swedenborg (1688-1772) was a Swedish mystic, theologian, philosopher, and scientist. After a successful career as a scientist and inventor, at the age of 53 he had a revelation that Jesus had chosen him to write 'The Heavenly Doctrine' to reform Christianity. He published 18 theological works before his death which he predicted. His writings have been very influential around the world, with The New Church or Swedenborgism being founded in 1787. It is still present around Australia.

CHARTERS TOWERS GENERAL MERCHANT SALES BOOK (1884-1885)

[Charters Towers General Merchant]

[Charters Towers]: [I. Lemel, Late Brodziak, Rodgers & Lemel?], 1884-1885.

49.5cm x 30cm. 1246 pages. Original leather over boards with decorative lace, marbled edges and endpapers.

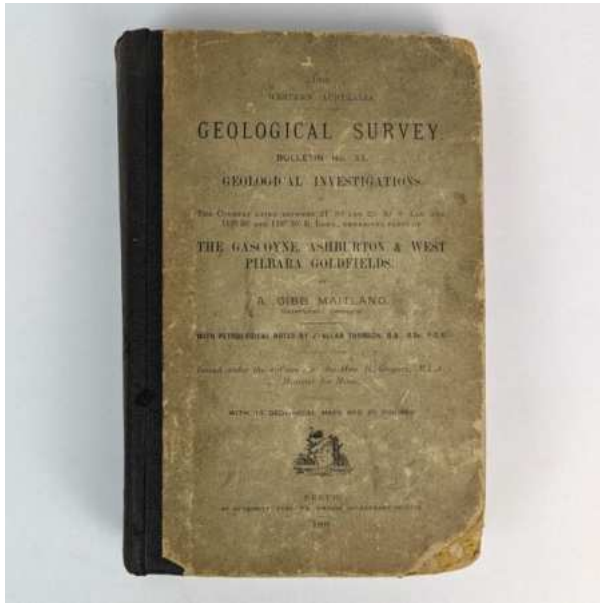

A large ledger recording sales for just shy of a year (18 July, 1884 - 7 July, 1885) during the gold boom years at a Charters Towers general store (From the entries the ledger is without a doubt from Charters Towers and is most likely the firm of Israel Lemel though there are no identifying marks other than a laid in blank 188* receipt slip printed for I. Lemel, late of Brodziak, Rodgers & Lemel). Weighing in at just under 16kg, nearly every page of the ledger is neatly annotated with tens of thousands of entries by numerous hands recording the customer's name, itemised purchases, and prices paid, as well as monthly sales totals (averaging a little over five thousand pounds a month). From one-off sales through to the regular shops of local families and businesses, including supplies to many of the mining claims in the region, the sale of a wide variety of items are listed: cheese, tobacco, ribbon, boots, bones, steel, candles, brooms, kerosine, dynamite, fuses, sardines, oatmeal, nails, whiskey, rice, bacon, champagne and glasses, to name but some. Israel Lemel was one of the largest landholders in Charters Towers, also serving as a Justice of the Peace and magistrate of the territory. Business turned in the 1890s and Lemel's merchant firms were liquidated. Nonetheless his business pursuits continued and in 1913 his appearance representing Charters Towers at the Queensland Dinner in London is noted as "whose diamond ring is as massive and whose smile is as expansive as of yore." hinting at the character of this gold rush town man of enterprise. This large ledger provides a detailed look at the supplies and spendings of individuals, families, miners, and businesses in a 19th century North Queensland gold rush town.

Though worn and rubbed, with chipping to the spine head and tail and some loss to the decorative leather, the binding remains solid and sturdy. The interior is very clean, a light soil on page 557, otherwise only the occasional minor soil. Very Good Condition. $3000.00 AUD.

SKIRMISH HILL

Bill Stanford

[Melbourne]: Sidharta Books, 2021.

Reprint.

23cm x 15cm. xii, 493 pages, colour illustrations. Pictorial wrappers.

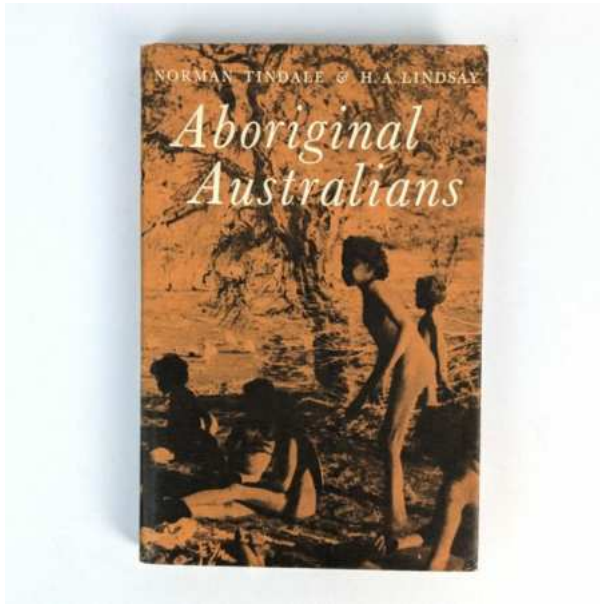

"Skirmish Hill exists in remote and off-limits Aboriginal land in the Great Victoria Desert of Western Australia. The book generally encapsulates the time from the Second Fleet, the Death Fleet, from England to Australia, up to the sailing in 1914 of the First Convoy that carried 34 troopships of the original Anzacs to Egypt and Gallipoli, while being escorted by the Imperial Japanese Navy. The narrative's central figure, William Whitfield Mills, made his mark in colonial Australia as an outback surveyor, explorer and gold prospector and was thus selected for his participating role. He crossed paths with men and women of interest, Europeans and Indigenous alike. Together they engendered the Australian way of life and achievement since the arrival of the white man in this country. Mills is the thread that links the pages of history and allows the events to flow on the tide of revelation. The book smacks strongly of the colonial days as they were, for better and sometimes for worse. It doesn't attempt to judge but to tell it as it was, for there were endless hardships to overcome. In his explorer days, Mills blazed a tree out in the Great Victoria Desert. The author and a fellow student of Australian history set out to find that tree. It is on sacred Aboriginal land, forbidden country to enter, for the white man today. That episode is described as is the return journey, on which they are granted rare permission to pass through the usually off-limits land of the Pitjantjatjara Aborigine tribe in the north-west of South Australia. Having by now learned that Mills died and was buried in an unmarked grave on an island in the midst of a salt lake in the vast Western Australian goldfields, the author and his wife undertake a wonderful journey of contemporary exploration to hopefully find his final resting place." BODY AND SOUL: AN ABORIGINAL VIEW

Anthony Rex Peile; Peter Bindon

Perth: Hesperian Press and The Pallottines in Australia, 1997.

First Edition.

25cm x 17.5cm. xxvi, 308 pages, map endpapers. Brown cloth, gilt lettering, illustrated jacket.

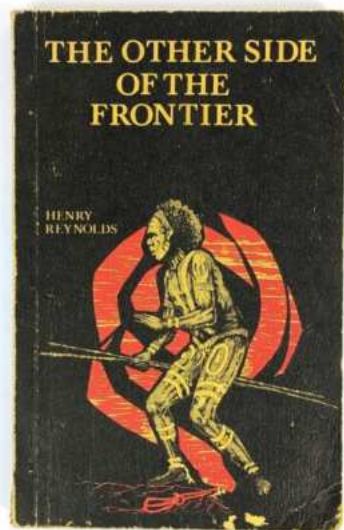

"This extraordinary book describes the conceptualisation of the human body, soul, and health at the Kukatja people, who now live at Balgo, in the far north of Western Australia. It is without a doubt the best book I have read in the past two decades on any topic concerning Australian Aborigines. Packed with absolutely fascinating and new information, it also makes a challenging read; the effort required is, however, amply rewarded. .. The book is aimed primarily at the medical practitioners working in the Aboriginal communities. .. To date, this book represents the only attempt to put together an account of the views of an Aboriginal people concerning the body, its functioning, health, medical practices, and the soul or spirit, showing how these fit together as a coherent system of knowledge." FARMACIST DESK REFERENCE: ENCYCLOPEDIA OF WHOLE FOOD MEDICINE (2 VOLUMES)

Don Tolman

United States of America and Hong Kong: Benacquista Publishing and X2X, 2006.

First Edition.

30cm x 22.5cm. 629; 943 pages, 2 volumes, colour illustrations. Illustrated glossy papered boards, no slipcase.

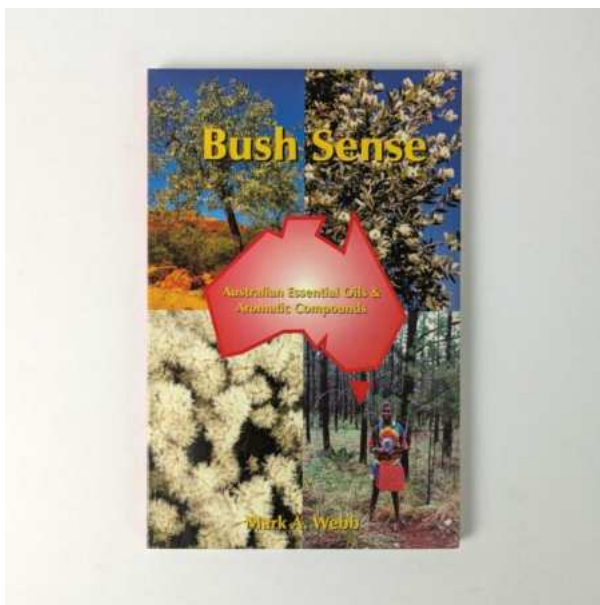

"The FDR is the definitive encyclopaedia of wholefood medicine - a detailed compendium, linking humanity's relationship to life and vitality using plant wholefoods as preventative and re-missive medicine. Volume 1 - contains what Don Tolman refers to as the 'treasures and nuggets'. Wisdom and information that ancient long-lived cultures wanted you to know about health and longevity and why disease is not a mystery that should be fought. It also exposes many of the common pitfalls of the modern day health care industry; Volume 2 - is your A-Z guide of plant wholefoods and the specific signature (sign-of-nature) that each food targets. It also contains a list of the most common ailments and diseases, including suggested protocols for healing with whole foods and nature's principles of health. The FDR contains handed down wisdom from the ancient Egyptians, Greeks, Romans, Hebrews, Chinese, Native Americans, Incas and others, who experienced vitality and longevity by embracing principles of nature and health and the power of plant whole food." SAN FRANCISCO EXPRESS TIMES (COMPLETE RUN, 61 ISSUES 1968-1969 W/ THE FIRST 7 ISSUES OF GOOD TIME)

Marvin Garson; Robert Novick

San Francisco: The Trystero Company, 1968-1969.

First Edition.

41cm x 30cm. 68 volumes. Folded newsprint.

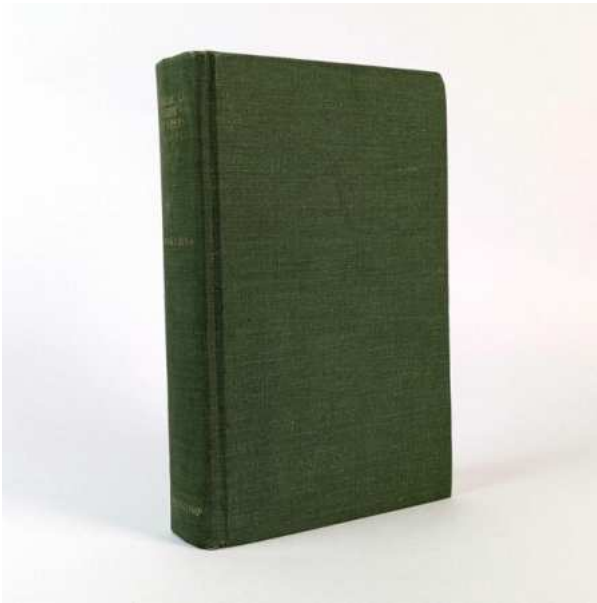

Complete run of the weekly underground newspaper San Francisco Express Times from Vol. 1 No. 1 January 26, 1968 - Vol. 2 No. 12, March 25, 1969, being all 61 issues before it was renamed Good Times being, here offered with those first seven issues, being Vol. 2 No. 13, [April 1969] - No. 19 May 14, 1969. Good Times continued (on a less regular publishing schedule) until August 2, 1972. Founded by Marvin Garson and Bob Novick the Express Times was a counterculture tabloid covering and promoting radical politics, music, arts, and progressive culture in the Bay Area. It featured extensive coverage of student riots including the prolonged strike at San Francisco State University, and a serialized novel of guerrilla warfare in the United States, Berkeley Guns by Lenny Heller, as well as a weekly cooking column by Alice Waters, illustrated by David Lance Goines. Regular contributors included Todd Gitlin, Greil Marcus, Paul Williams, Sandy Darlington, and Marjorie Heins, alongside staff photographers Jeffrey Blankfort, Nacio Jan Brown, and Robert Altman, and cartoons by Jaxon, Ron Cobb, and Sharon Rudahl. Also featured are writings by or about Richard Brautigan (Note: The final issue credits themselves for publishing 62 issues in total, however this is believed incorrect, there being 61 issues published weekly with a week taken off at the New Year. Comparable holdings found also note the total as 61. Also note Vol. 1 No. 13 misnamed No. 14, April 18, 1967 [1968], sequential numbering then corrected with No. 14 designated as No. 14.5)

Most issues with the address stamp or label of Dick Johnson (whose namesake also has numerous adverts within for either Homeowner's, Business, or Fire Insurance). Minor tanning and edgewear. No. 49 with minor foxing along the top edge, else clean. Very Good Condition. $2500.00 AUD.

BOB MIZER. AMG: 1000 MODEL DIRECTORY

Dian Hanson; Bob Mizer

Koln: Taschen, 2016.

First Edition.

29cm x 23cm. 2 volumes, illustrations, many in colour, 1 DVD. Half cloth, pictorial papered boards, slipcase.

"From a quarter million male nudes, editor Dian Hanson selects the best physique photography from Bob Mizer, founder of Physique Pictorial, America's first indisputably gay magazine. Printed from the original 4 x 5 negatives for utmost clarity, this two-volume, seriously strapping lineup includes movie and TV stars Nick Adams, Glenn Corbett, and Ed Fury. An hour-long DVD is also included, containing 18 films made by Bob Mizer between 1954 and 1968, in black and white and color, all edited specifically for this book. They range from simple posing routines by bodybuilding stars Keith Stephan and AMG favorites Forrester Millard, John Davidson, and Steve Buono, to sword and sandal star Ed Fury's first physique film, to gladiator extravaganzas, wrestling adventures, crime dramas, and—a Bob specialty—humorous morality tales, starring Jim Paris, John Tristram, Monte Hanson, and other models featured in the book. Mizer's take on Dr. Frankenstein's monster, in posing straps, is a standout." (publisher's blurb)

QUEER: STORIES FROM THE NGV COLLECTION

Ted Gott; Angela Hesson; Myles Russell-Cook; Pip Wallis; Meg Slater

Melbourne: Council of Trustees of the National Gallery of Victoria, 2022.

First Edition.

27.5cm x 20cm. 628 pages, colour illustrations. Illustrated papered boards.

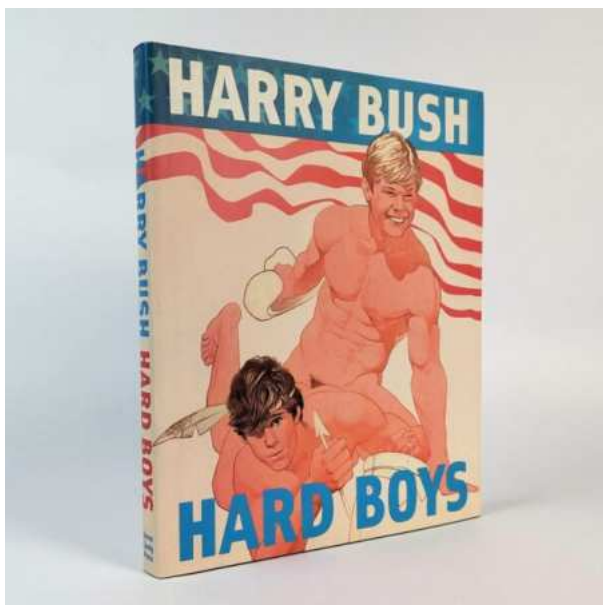

"Queer: Stories from the NGV Collection is more than an exhibition catalogue. This 628-page publication expands on the themes explored in the NGV's Queer exhibition to document the queer past, present and future of the NGV collection. More than 60 essays from authors with comprehensive knowledge of the historical and contemporary subjects encompassed by the NGV's Queer project are presented alongside stunning reproductions of more than 200 works from the NGV collection, either by queer artists or engaging with queer issues. The essays in Queer: Stories from the NGV Collection explore the history of LGBTQ+ activism; the creation of queer spaces and communities; queerness as an artistic strategy; the expression of love, desire and sensuality; queer aesthetics; and the concepts of camp and the fantastic." (publisher's blurb) This extensive monograph catalogue sold out in the year of publication and has not been reprinted.

COMPLETE SET OF DAVID MCDIARMID'S ACON AIDS AWARENESS SAFE SEX / INJECTING POSTERS

David McDiarmid

: ACON (AIDS Council of New South Wales), 1992.

First Edition.

67cm x 44.5cm. 5 colour offset lithograph posters.

A complete set of the original AIDS Council of New South Wales safe sex and safe injecting posters featuring artwork commissioned from David McDiarmid (1952-1995). "For people of a certain disposition and a certain age, David McDiarmid's ACON posters were part of our exploration of sexuality and identity amidst the HIV/AIDS crisis during the 1990s. The large multicoloured muscular naked male bodies with symbols, acronyms and names scrawled across each limb: positives and negatives of grief/lust/fear/care provided a new language for a community to own its public health concerns, and a troubling and appealing depiction of much of our felt ambivalence surrounding sexuality. They, along with his massive and elaborate Mardi Gras floats, were the backdrops to the AIDS vigils of the 1990s; an intense time of shuddering grief and defiant sexual pride." (Margaret Mayhew, Artlink Issue 34:3) Full list of posters: 1. Some of us get out of it, some of us don't. All of us fuck with condoms - every time!; 2. HIV, discrimination and grief threaten our community, Build our strength, stay together and support each other; 3. Some of us have HIV, some of us don't. All of us fuck with condoms - every time!; 4. Some of us inject, some of us don't. Always use clean needles - every time!; 5. Some of us are in love, some of us are in lust. All of us fuck with condoms - every time!

BELFAST PUNK: WARZONE CENTRE, 1997 - 2003 (DELUXE EDITION)

Ricky Adam

Bologna: Damiani Editore, 2017.

Deluxe Edition.

31cm x 23cm. 176 pages, illustrations, 1 original signed and numbered photo, 1 pinback badge. Pictorial matte papered boards, slipcase.

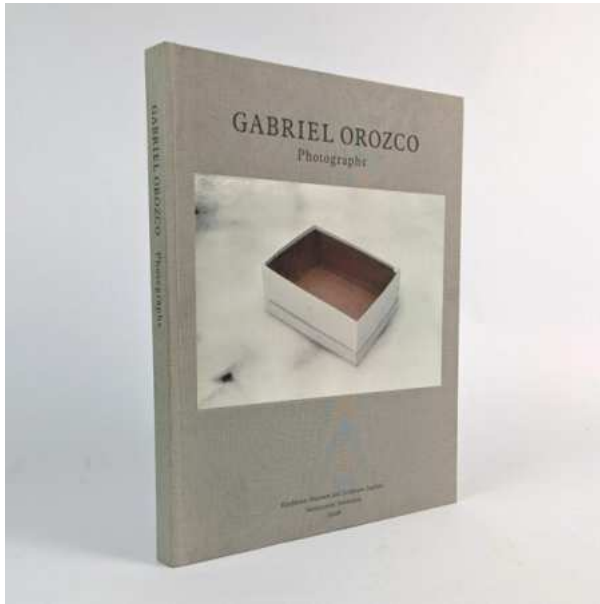

The deluxe edition, limited to 15 copies, with an original signed and numbered photograph by Ricky Adam. "The Warzone Collective began in 1984 in Belfast, Northern Ireland, when a few local punks decided to consolidate their efforts and find their own venue, practice, and social space. In 1986, the Collective opened Giros, its first premises in Belfast, which contained a vegetarian cafe, practice space, and screen printing facilities. It soon became a focal point for anarchists and punks. In 1991 the Collective moved Giros to a larger and more ambitious venue, the spot where all of the photographs in this book were taken. Over the years, thousands of people passed through Giros' doors. A strong D.I.Y. ethic defined the way gigs and events were organized. It didn't have an alcohol license, and it was an all ages venue. The Warzone Centre, or The Centre as it was called by some, became the countercultural hub for the greater Belfast area and beyond. Bands from all over the world played there, and it was famous for being one of the best in Europe for D.I.Y. punk. The photographs in this book were taken between 1997 and 2003. Toward the end of 2003, the Centre closed, leaving a huge gap in radical Belfast culture. It reopened in 2011, in a different venue on the opposite side of town and is still going strong today." DICTIONNAIRE UNIVERSEL FRANCOIS ET LATIN, VULGAIREMENT APPELE DICTIONNAIRE DE TREVOUX (8 VOLUMES)

[Dictionnaire de Trevoux]

Paris: Compagnie des Libraires Associes, 1771.

Sixth Edition.

41cm x 26cm. 8 volumes. Uniform contemporary full marbled leather, gilt lettering and decoration to spines, all edges red, marbled endpapers.

The final and most comprehensive edition of the Dictionnaire de Trevoux, so nicknamed because of its original publication in the town of Trevoux. The original 1704 edition, assumed to be directed by the Jesuits, was largely derived from the 1701 edition of Antoine Furetiere's 1690 Dictionnaire universel. From the much expanded second edition it became widely used and was a major inspiration for Ephraim Chamber's 1728 Cyclopaedia and the 1751-72 Encyclopedie, ou dictionnaire raisonne des sciences, des arts et des metiers.

Some rubbing to boards, refurbished. Aged professional reback now with some minor cracking to some joints, vol. 2 with the joints restored with tissue, overall bindings still very firm and sound. Very clean interior, with only very occasional foxing. A few leaves with marginal chips, not affecting text. Very Good Condition. $5000.00 AUD.

L'ART DE JOUIR OU TRAITE PRATIQUE DES CARESSES VOLUPTUEUSES. RECETTES & FORMULES SUR LES APHRODISIAQUES ET PHILTRES D' AMOUR

[Pierrot / Doctor Brennus / Roland Brevannes?]

[Paris]: [Andre Hal], No date.

First Edition.

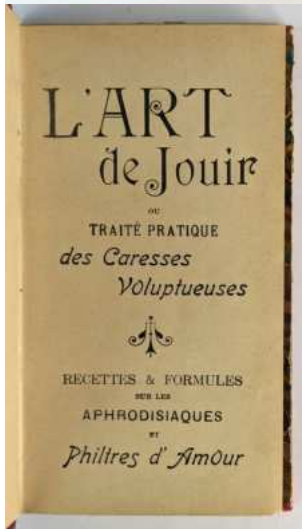

17cm x 9.5cm. pp. 181, 105-174, [1]. Quarter leather, papered boards, gilt lettering, marbled endpapers. Text is in French.

The Art of Enjoyment or Practical Treatise on Voluptuous Caresses, Capable of Procuring the Most Delicious, the Most Exciting, the Most Disturbing, the Most Irresistible Sensations. Recipes & Formulas on Aphrodisiacs and Love Potions. "This little treatise is a veritable vade mecum for the apprentice in love. It indicates precisely the physical and moral means which must be implemented to conquer the woman. The second part of the work dealing with lovemaking around the world including commentary on Asian and African practices. PERCEAU 275, DUTEL 56. Dutel stating circa 1902, Perceau 1908, a small name on the half-title of this copy followed by 1905. Both Perceau and Dutel attributing authorship to Pierrot, pseudonym of Roland Brevannes, who usually signed his works on sexuality Doctor Brennus, this based on the identical type used by the publisher. Rare, unrecorded in OCLC. This copy with 70 pages, separately paginated (pp. 105-174, [1]), of a clandestine catalogue of erotica and sexuality materials bound at the rear.

THE HERMETIC JOURNAL (COMPLETE SET NO. 1, 1978 - 1992)

Adam McLean

Edinburgh: The Hermetic Journal, 1978-1992.

First Edition.

21cm x 14.5cm. 46 volumes. Illustrated wrappers.

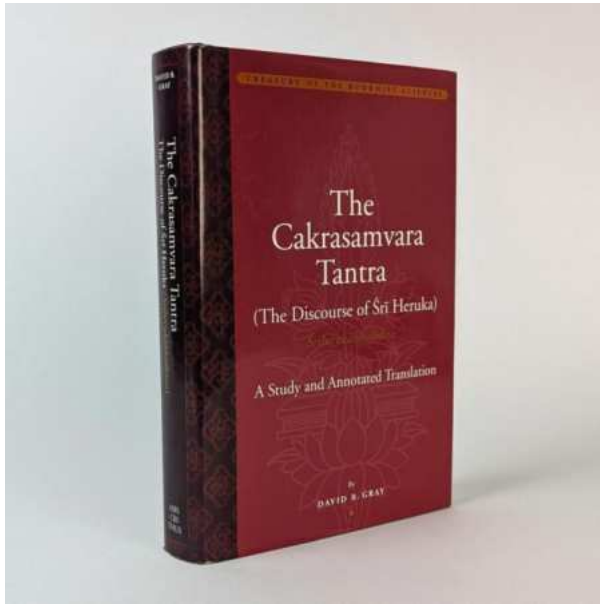

A complete set of the quarterly journal dedicated to the Hermetic tradition edited by Adam McLean in the original 42 parts from 1978-1988 and together with the original printings of the final four annual volumes, 1989-1992. The Hermetic Journal was one of the few 20th century journals dedicated to the study of alchemy, Kabbalah, Rosicrucianism, and other esoteric traditions. In its fourteen year history the journal published over one thousand articles ranging from serious scholarly works to those of a more speculative nature, but under the editorship of McLean the journal remained steadfast in its approach to a high quality study of alchemy and hermetic philosophy. Contributors include Gareth Knight, Stephen Skinner, Kenneth Clark, Ithell Colquhoun, Joscelyn Godwin, and many others. Sold largely by subscription, circulation of the original issues was small, reportedly ranging from 300 to 400 copies.

Most of the first 42 volumes with a minor to very minor amount of highlighting, a few with very minor soiling or minor shelf and handling wear. The annual volumes with some creasing to wrappers and minor foxing to edges. Very Good Condition. $4500.00 AUD.
